CRNA GORA ZEMLJA VINA

Ko je na prostorima Crne Gore prvi zasadio vinovu lozu? Stari Grci, Rimljani, Sloveni, ili oni koji su ovdje možda oduvijek bili i koji su se u moru vremena srodili sa našim slovenskim precima? Možda to nikada nećemo saznati, ali možda to nije ni toliko važno, jer već hiljadama godina ovdje vinova loza raste i rada vino koje priča priču o svom zavičaju: „Ovo je Crna Gora. Zemlja vina“!

Vjekovima je vino bilo dio crnogorske vjere, kulture i običaja. U Crnoj Gori je rođen Vranac, vran kao vrani konj istog imena – metafora snažnog, plemenitog vina. Razvijalo se vinogradarstvo kroz vrijeme, a polovinom 19. vijeka, crnogorski knjaz Nikola Petrović je svoju podršku izrazio riječima: „Da svaki vojnik iz mjesta gdje loza može rasti, zasadi po dvije stotine čokata“. Za crnogorsko vino tako je počelo novo doba. I već 1907. godine na izložbi vina u Londonu, Crnogorski Vranac je osvojio prvu nagradu.

Više od pola vijeka, crnogorska kompanija „13. jul – Plantaze“ predstavlja jednog od najvećih i najznačajnijih proizvođača grožđa, vina i lozove rakije u Jugoistočnoj Evropi, u čijem posjedu se nalazi jedinstven vinograd impresivne površine od 2.310 hektara u jednom kompleksu. Plantaze njeguju i hiljadu godišnju crnogorsku tradiciju vinogradarstva i vinarstva, najveću pažnju posvećujući upravo crnogorskim autohtonim sortama grožđa i autentičnom crnogorskom vinu u kome se ogleda crnogorska kultura i duh jednog zaista jedinstvenog podneblja smještenog između mora i planina.

Danas je vranac glavni simbol crnogorskog podneblja. On je naš nacionalni ponos i metafora Crne Gore, male zemlje – velikih vina!

MONTENEGRO LAND OF WINES

One has wondered for centuries: who was the first to plant the vine on the territory of Montenegro? The ancient Greeks, Romans, Slavs or those who had maybe lived here for all times, assimilating in the sea of time with our Slavic ancestors?

We may never find it out, but perhaps, it is not so much important, for it was for thousands of years back that the vine has grown, making the wine telling the story about its homeland: 'This is Montenegro. The Land of Wine!

The wine has been for centuries the essential part of the Montenegrin religion, culture and customs. Montenegro is the birthplace of Vranac, black as the black horse of the same name- the metaphor of a strong, noble wine. The viticulture developed over time and in the mid-19th century, young Montenegrin prince, Nikola Petrović supported viticulture with the following words: 'Each soldier from the place where vine grows must plant 200 vines!'

This was the beginning of the new era for Montenegrin wine. And as soon as 1907, Montenegrin Vranac won the first prize at London Wine Fair.

Over half of the century, Montenegrin company

13. jul-Plantaze represents one of the greatest and most remarkable producers of grapes, wine and grape brandy in Southeastern Europe, owning a unique vineyard, covering the impressive surface of 2.310 ha as a single complex. Plantaze has tended one thousand yearlong Montenegrin tradition of viticulture and wine making, paying the greatest attention to Montenegrin autochthonous grape varieties and authentic Montenegrin wine, reflecting Montenegrin culture and spirit of a unique area, located between the sea and mountains.

Today, Vranac is the main symbol of Montenegro. It is our national pride and a metaphor of Montenegro, small country of great wines!
